

My name is Taylor Butler, I'm a junior at the Ranch and I am in journalism because in the near future I want to pursue a career in outdoor journalism. When I am not writing for Mustangs ahead, you can usually find me outside enjoying the outdoors through photography and boating. I like LRHS because the teachers are passionate about what they do, they care about their work and students. The LRHS staff makes sure that we are in a constant clean and healthy learning environment which is essential to having a successful learning facility. One goal I am bound to achieve is constantly bettering the people around me and setting a leadership example for those around me.
